

Jörg Sommer leaving StreetScooter GmbH

Bonn/Aachen – February 7, 2020: Jörg Sommer, CEO of StreetScooter GmbH headquartered in Aachen, Germany, is leaving the company to pursue new opportunities. His departure, which is effective immediately, is by mutual agreement and on the best of terms.

The change was prompted by strategic differences regarding the future direction of the company.

Sommer joined StreetScooter in April 2019 from Chanje, an electric vehicle manufacturer in the US, where he was Chief Operating Officer responsible for production and the company's growth strategy. Prior to that, Sommer held various management positions at Volkswagen, the Renault Group and Daimler.

Assuming the helm of StreetScooter will be Markus Dörr, currently Chief Operations Officer and management spokesperson.
